Frankfurt School: On the Concept of History by Walter Benjamin There is a painting by Klee called Angelus Novus. An angel is depicted there who looks as though he were about to distance himself from something which he is staring at. His eyes are opened wide, his mouth stands open and his wings are outstretched. The Angel of History must look just so. His face is turned towards the past. Walter Benjamin and thAngee l of History - Susan Handelman of History," written after his release from the internment camp in France and just before his suicide, Benjamin wrote perhaps his most poignant allegory about the "angel of history." In the final moment of allegory, Benjamin had written in The Origin of German Tragic Drama (OGTD), the death's head turns into an angel's countenance (232). The Angel of History by Rabih Alameddine - Goodreads Following the critical and commercial success of An Unnecessary Woman, Alameddine delivers a spectacular portrait of a man and an era of profound political and social upheaval. Set over the course of one night in the waiting room of a psych clinic, The Angel of History follows Yemeni-born poet Jacob as he revisits the events of his life, from his maternal upbringing in an E Becoming Significant: Walter Benjamin's Angel of History Angel of History. The metamorphosis of Benjamin's Angel of History is a changing of history; it tells of how Benjamin grew over time and found that in growing the world seemed to become acquiescent. Yet this text, written in various forms in the later years of Benjamin's life, has become a symbol of the modern historical dialectic, a
